Extremes - from the wildest passion to the most excruciating suffocation - characterize the epic structures from which Beranger's unique sound is forged. In insane arrangements, Beranger simultaneously immerses their listeners in ice baths and make them burst into flames. Just as gloom and ecstasy collide in their records, their heavy piano arrangements come together with powerful drums and a live band sound which now features guitar and bass as well.

Beranger's unstoppable live energy infects everyone from indie kids to more mature rockers. Most of the audience members being loyal fans who discovered them playing countless intimate busking gigs on the streets of Berlin. The underdog of classical piano, Beranger has won people's hearts and minds through the sheer talent and integrity of their sound.

Their melodic narratives range between vanilla and violence, often captivating and horrifying at the same time. A busking band at heart, Beranger's explosive choruses do not shy away from risky piano breakdowns, an immediately recognizable touch of their for some fans of European street music.

The Our Love is Closer 2023 Tour

Following their first ever tour in 2022 and with nearly 1500 tickets sold, Beranger is coming back on tour in Germany, Austria, and for the first time, Switzerland in November 2023! Their high energy shows in the streets of Germany have garnered them the ever-growing attention of by-passers and 2023 will see the release of many new singles from the band, such as Our Love Is Closer, and The Bitter End.

Having just won #1st place at the Ludwigsburg Street Music Festival in 2023, Beranger are finally establishing themselves as a household name for street music and piano infused pop rock in Germany.

Come rock out, lose yourself in their uplifting pop-rock anthems, and join an unforgettable night of chanting and head-banging to classical piano and throbbing drum breakdowns.
