

david bay is a hamburg-based artist and producer renowned for his signature blend of indie, disco, and house music, all wrapped in a timeless 70s-inspired aesthetic. balancing somewhere between funky and smooth, club and sofa, uplifting and deep, his project captures a retro spirit with a fresh, modern edge.

his music compels you to move while delivering emotionally resonant stories that linger long after the night ends. with more than 30 releases in just three years, david's rise within today's music community feels inevitable.

in addition to running his label zissou records, hosting parties, and djing, david has recently ventured into live performances, showcasing his talents on bass, guitar, synths, and vocals. whether sharing the stage with global acts like purple disco machine or headlining his own shows, he delivers a live experience that's equal parts nostalgia and innovation. join david bay for a journey where the past and present collide in perfect harmony.